Students To Mark Ballots For Class Officers Today From 12 To 1 And 3 To 4

Today, from 12:00-1:00 and from 3:00 to 4:00 o'clock in rooms 16 and 12, classes will select their officers for the year.

Senior class candidates are: for President—Paul Moon, Charles Schlink; for Vice President—Charlene Appleby, Mary Birkett, Clara Miller; for Secretary—Shirlee Brunnenmeyer, Clarence Griffin; for Treasurer—Jim Law, Roger Sutton

Running for President of the Junior class are Truman Adkins, Lee Redard, and Fred Trumpold; for Vice President—Anne Heideman, Louise Walzer; for Secretary—Jean Jacob, Jack Pfeiffer, John Sheridan; and for Treasurer—Betty Boyd and Marian Stein.

Bidding for the office of Junior man Student Council representative are Paul Vanerwulp and Jim White.

On the Sophomore presidential ballot are the names of Chuck Hogan and Gordan Hunt. Running for Vice President—Madge Penfold and Barbara Blair; and for Treasurer—Bill Frey, Shirley Moran, and June Ruppert.

Freshmen will choose as president either Tom Cartwright, Kenneth MuMullen, or John Morris. They will vote on the names of Dick Leu, Gladys Montgomery, and Jean Reynolds for Vice President; Pat Haskins, Gerry Herman, and Fred Seaburg for Secretary; and Betty Kimmig or Bud Stauffer for Treasurer.

Sophomores and Juniors will vote in room 16, Seniors and Freshmen in room 12. Student Council members under general election chairman, Frances Day, will oversee all voting and function with their faculty adviser in counting the votes after polls close promptly at four o'clock this afternoon.

Home Ec Delegates To Attend Field Day At Chicago

Shirlee Brunnenmeyer, senior, and Miss Beatrice Benson, head of the Home Economics department, will attend the Annual Field Day for Home Economics seniors to be held in Chicago this Friday and Saturday.

The convention will be sponsored by Home Economics Women in Business which is a division of the Home Economics association .

Dr. Louise Stanley, chief of the Bureau of Home Economics will speak at the dinner meeting Friday evening. Saturday will be spent in taking various field trips to food test kitchens and textile and clothing exhibits.

Sammis Addresses Camera Club

Bradley's newly formed Camera club held its second meeting last Tuesday evening at 7:30 in the physics lab.

Mr. J. Huber Sammis, professor of chemistry at Peoria Central and former president of the Peoria Photo Forum, spoke on "How to Make Good Pictures." The meeting was chairmaned by Bob Berte, newly elected president, and arranged by Eugene Voss, program chairman, and his committee, William and Virginia Wasson.

Members of the TECH editorial staff are requested to meet in the staff room in North Manual Arts for an important meeting this afternoon at 3:00 o'clock sharp.

Modern Religion Is Discussed By Philosophers

Organized religion has a value greater than inner, individual religion, Dr. Schroeder told the Philosophy club at its monthly meeting Sunday afternoon at the Blair residence, 210 Cooper.

After quoting Channing Pollock in a bit about the author's deep appreciation and reverence when viewing the Red Sea and the Arabian desert from the deck of a steamer, Dr. Schroeder pointed out that few people could gain enough spiritual satsifaction through such an experience to warrant their discarding the principles of the church as an organization. The church, he said, serves as the highest expression of man's religious sense.

There were differences of opinion on all subjects discussed, and no conclusions were reached. Among the topics touched were immortality, man's position in the world, and concepts of deity.

Movies To Be Held Next Home Ec Meet

Movies explaining the Federal Housing project will be presented at the meeting of the Home Economics club to be held Thursday, November 28.

Elmer Jolly, who is connected with the housing project, will show the movies.

Tech Professors Receive 'Ph. D.'s

Palmer T. Hogenson and Harold G. Avery are now proud possessors of their doctors degrees. Dr. Hogenson's thesis dealt with economics; Dr. Avery's dealt with accounting. Both men are associated with Bradley's business department.

Mask And Gavel Set Premier Of 'What A Life' For Monday, December 16

Mask and Gavel's first production of the school year, "What a Life" by Clifford Goldsmith, will open at the Peoria Players' theater Monday evening, December 16. The play will be presented at three performances, two evening showings on December 16 and 17, and a matinee on December 17.

"What A Life," a play that has had recent success both on the legitimate stage and in the movies, depicts the scrapes and struggles of a typical high school youth in his attempts to go to the "Prom." Full of humor and of real life, the play is a sure-fire hit.

List Cast

Cast in the dramatic club's initial play are Jack Brunnenmeyer as Henry Aldrich, Betty Junker as Miss Shea, Alice Ann McCord as Miss Pyke, Lyle Geeting as Bill, Velma Moses as Miss Eagleston, John Morris as Mr. Nelson, Margaret Irvine as Barbara Pierson, Don Lacey as Mr. Bradley, Gene Smith as Mr. Ferguson, and Peggy Lee Richardson as Miss Johnson.

Others in the cast are Marynette Chamberlain, Lyman Fort, Fred Seaburg, Carmen Dixon, Alys Shane, Marian Tendick, Joe Walker, Marvin Carius, Kay Kelly, Margaret Brown, and Elizabeth Hack.

Showing At Manual

Besides the regular performances at the players' theater, the cast will also present one showing of the comedy at Manual Training high school, Friday, December 13.

Pre-Medic Club Visits Clinic At State Hospital

Nearly fifty Bradley students, members of the Pre-Medic club, visited the Peoria state hospital last Thursday evening.

The club was taken into a lecture room in one of the new hospital buildings where they listened to a talk given by Dr. Turo, assistant manager of the hospital.

Dr. Turo talked to the students about the reasons for an institution such as the one at Bartonville. Ten different types of mental cases were brought before the club and the case history of each was given. At the conclusion of the lecture the surgery and x-ray rooms were examined before the group returned to Peoria.

Alpha Delta Meets

Alpha Delta national journalistic honorary society, will hold a short meeting this afternoon at 2:30 in the TECH staff room.

Radio Star Gives Advice To Hopefuls, 'Producers Want Well-Trained Actors'

by Jean Graham

"Fifteen minutes on the air—50 bucks—prestige, fun—that's the life for me. . . Anyway, what's she got that I haven't?" And Polly Teck flings herself into a chair and she flips off the radio. As an actress Polly's not bad—had the lead in the high school play, and she does have a sweet young voice. What more logical place than the radio—the field of her day — to seek her fortune?

But hold on a minute, Polly Teck, for Miss Hope Summers has something to say to you. We cornered her in the Wigwam last week when she was here to read "Life With Father."

She Knows Her Radio

As you probably know, Miss Summers is well qualified to tell you about radio, as she plays Mrs. Evans in "The Road to Life," Mrs. Welch in "Bud Barton," and Francesca in "Lone Journey."

Here's what she told me to tell you, Polly Teck, you and all the others who are dreaming of easy money over the air:

First of all, don't try to get into radio until you are a well trained dramatic actress. Go to school, prepare for your work, take voice and language training courses. A good background is essential in any field and radio is no exception. You must be versatile, for you'll only be in demand if you can play a variety of roles. Don't depend upon playing "the sweet young thing." Radio already has too many of them.

Must Have Poise

Then, when you have a good background and know it, that most important element of poise will come naturally—(we hope). This is very important, for directors are afraid to take someone who might go to pieces over the air.

After you have all this, Polly, what then? Do you know that there are approximately 2,000 members of the radio actors' union in Chicago, only 15 per cent of whom are employed And there are many others too poor to belong to this union. But then on the other hand—here Miss Summers' dramatic personality flashed —you can't give up, for there's always a chance that your voice may be just the one for the role they need. Out of 100 actresses you may be chosen because your voice just fits.

Radio standards today are much

Attention, Boy Scouts!

Etiquette covers a lot of things: which fork to use, what to say at the right time, how to act under pressure. There is a sort of national etiquette, too, about the position of the flag when it is displayed before an audience.

Some of us were Boy Scouts and we distinctly remember that the flag is always placed at the speaker's right and to the left of the audience.

Apparently those in charge of Monday's chapel were never Boy Scouts, or they didn't know about Etiquette. —DB

Congratulations

It is with the deepest sincerity that we congratulate the new attitude that everyone at Bradley is carrying about these days in regard to class elections.

The old political affiliations, the old antagonism between coalitions are being forgotten today as the students cast their votes for their class officers. Today they are voting for the man or woman, not the party.

They have ceased playing that childish game of "Follow the Leader," and they are now guiding their own hands in the marking of their ballots.

Congratulations on this new era on the campus! I.M.

The editorial column in the TECH has earned the reputation for a number of years as being a chronic griper about chapels and chapel speakers.

We think it only fair that the student body know that we do like chapels once in a while.

If more speakers in chapel had the force and the conviction of Monday's speaker more students would attend chapel for other purposes than sleep and would feel that it was worth their twenty minutes.

'Barring Weather, Team Morale Fluctuations Tech Has 50-50 Chance To Win Or Tie North Dakota Game' Say Students

Bradley has better than a fifty-fifty chance to win or tie the U. of North Dakota game here Saturday in the opinion of her students. These students told this week's poll that 42% of them had confidence she would win, and 23% at least expected her to hold the other team to a tie.

Asked to quote estimated scores, some placed Bradley out in front as far as 27 to 0, while some of their more pessimistic brothers and sisters would give the other team a 21-7 decision.

However, these marked the limits quoted by students, and it is important to note that the largest number of students placed their estimates conservatively. Nearly half the people interviewed said the winner would take the game with only one touchdown to its credit. Another note of interest is the large number of persons who believe the struggle will end with a tie.

Evidently the women hold a more pessimistic view than the men, and in answering the interviewers they more often placed Bradley as the loser, with higher scores estimated for North Dakota than most of the men quoted.

Those who considered the game as a tie expected a hard-fought battle, and most champions of the victor-less game felt that 0-0 might easily be the result, while 6-6 was a popular response.

Most of the team members interviewed expressed the opinion that Bradley would be the victor, but most of them hesitated to suggest a score. The attitude of this group was usually that the idea was to try to win and not to decide how the score would stand. Even among this highly interested group, however, there were some opinion differences, with some expecting the northern school to carry away the win.

Weather fluctuations, team morale, morales and strength of the other rather unknown team and student support were listed by many students as factors which might easily affect the outcome of the game, and change drastically the estimates which they advanced.

Who will win the Bradley-North Dakota U. Game Saturday:

	Men	Women	Total
Bradley	43%	41%	42%
U. of North Dakota	27%	53%	40%
Tie	23%	6%	15%

On The Cuff

"A loaf of bread, a jug of wine," and make it snappy. . . !

A Bradley male wants a girl:

Who confines her polish to her nails
Who really bristles up when ya brush her off.
Who doesn't cream your gravy.
Whose curves are on the square.
Who is not too corny, but does shocking things with her husky voice—
Who hasn't a line, but knows where to draw one.

What the Bradley fem doesn't want is as follows:

A fellow who is so absorbing he can sponge off most anyone.
Who stands for nothing and falls for anything.
Who wears his jokes, his welcome, and his shirt out.

Proverbial Retakes:

"Rose by any other name would be incognito."
"Great oaks from little acorns grow," so if you're a nut, it's okeh.
"All's fair in love and war," but it'd be a lot better if there were some rules.

"You're the sunshine of my life, darling . "
"Oh?"
"You reign alone in my heart . . ."
"With you at my side I could weather any storm . . ."
"Excuse me, please, but is this a proposal or a weather report?"

THANKSGIVING

Thanks for college, thanks for knowledge,
Thanks for room to think in.
Thanks for time that's left to play,
For time to eat and drink in.

Thanks that I am still myself—
Not someone else's invention.
Thanks for all those little treats,
Too numerous to mention.

I'll need a lot of what it takes,
All I can beg or borrow,
Else how can I repair the mess
The world will be tomorrow?

I hope when I am out of school,
When life has had its pranks,
That I'll still take it on the chin,
And love it, saying, thanks.

Federation Banquet Tonight; Alum To Talk

As an opening of their new year the Federation of Scholars will meet tonight, November 14, at the University club. At this time a dinner will be held preceeding the program and the business meeting. For the program Mr. H. Dale Morgan, an alumnus of Bradley and a member of the board of trustees, will present a talk to the members of the organization.

Earnest Tiarks, president, will preside over the meeting and will be aided by Mary Louise Walzer, secretary-treasurer, and Robert Smith, vice president. In order to become a member of this society, it is necessary to have attended Bradley for at least two semesters and to have maintained a B average during that time.

Calling All 'Brave' Co-Eds! Tech Needs Girl Cheerleader To Lead After Clara Graduates

By June Ruppert

In the days when football was a slaughter instead of a game, Bradleyites screamed for blood on their own. They didn't need cheerleaders to "Give 'em the ax, the ax, the ax"; it was the era of rugged individualism, of every man for himself.

But that epoch passed; brains triumphed over brawn and the appellation "dumb football player" ceased to fit. As the nation progresssed from the laissez faire policy to a policy of cooperation, so students began giving their "Yeah red, white" under the guidance of the fellow with the monopoly on football noise, the cheerleader.

However, student enthusiasm soon took a dive for the worse. Cheerleaders pleaded on bended knee, "Now YELL. Come on, a big Yeah Team!" In vain they pranced and screamed and shouted; uselessly they contracted laringitis, rubbed blisters on their feet, and dug cinders into their palms. Bradley students just wouldn't yell.

Then flagging enthusiasm began to catch up when a former Bradley athlete took the thankless and cheerless job, and it burst into a roar of approval as a definite innovation appeared on the field, a girl cheerleader. During her four years of cheerleading Clara Miller has brought pep and enthusiasm to the Bradley bleachers. Her ideal has been to boost Bradley athletics through student and school spirit and she has done it well.

Now graduation looms in the near future and with that graduation, the cessation of Bradley's recently established tradition of a girl cheerleader. Cessation, that is, unless a successor appears to fill the vacancy.

There are but two requirements for an applicant to this position. First, she must be a Freshman or Sophomore planning to attend Bradley for four years, and, second, she must have a sincere desire to be a cheerleader. She should in some way contact Clara Miller either before or immediately following Thanksgiving vacation in order to have time to prepare for this year's opening basketball game.

Thus it remains for the girls of Bradley to decide the fate of future cheers. They must produce from their ranks a girl with pep and enthusiasm to spark the entire student body to cheer Bradley teams on to victory.

Radio Star Gives Advice To All Young Hopefuls

more exacting than they used to be. Audiences today demand naturalness of production that was unknown five years ago. To attract the attention of the director, beginners must be better in proportion that the established actor.

Long Ante-Room Waits

After you get your big chance, Polly Tech, and you've broken the ice, the fun really begins. Then come the long hours of waiting in the ante-room—praying, hoping against hope that this time they'll want you. Directors will want someone easy to work with, who can take it on the chin, who's always there and there on time.

Yes, you'll even have to learn to break that important date on New Year's Eve if the studio should want you that night. And you won't have much to say about the roles you play—you can just take what you get and like it, or —not take it.

Hardest of all, according to Miss Summers, will be the wear and tear on your nerves. You won't know how your voice sounds to your audience, and the timing element must be perfect. To quote Miss Summers: "On the stage you can always powder your nose to cover up a gap, but on the air there's just a gap and there's nothing to do about it."

Well, Polly Teck, I hope I haven't swayed you one bit from your chosen path, but I do hope that the next time you turn on the radio and hear a voice not so unlike your own, you'll realize the struggle that voice probably represents.

Parents' Day Boasts Large Attendance

Boasting the largest attendance on record, Parents' Day proved to be a great success from the point of view of both parents and students.

This year an estimated group of 550 parents attended all or part of the two day's activities. Between 125 and 130 parents took advantage of the tours to see Bradley's campus and 25 lunched at Constance hall.

Those coming the longest distance to attend Parents' Day were Mr. and Mrs. Adam Lauck of Long Island, New York, who visited their son, Matt, a freshman on the hilltop. A close second was Mrs. Holderle of New York, mother of Harvey Holderle, a sophomore.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Lauck and Mrs. Holderle, as well as other parents from nearer cities, expressed surprise at the beauty of the campus and the size of both campus and buildings.

SQUAW SQUIBS

The old fall schedule will end with make-up work all due before the holiday, unless special arrangements have been made.

The archery record broken this year was the score for the beginner's round, with Pearl Neumann hitting the target 69 out of 72 shots for the Independents, making a total of 399 points, 51 more than the previous record set here. Other beginners were Jean Joos, with a score of 259, Gerry Hermann, 243, and Norma Flannery, 176.

Science Frat To Offer Prizes

Cash prizes will be offered by Pi Gamma Mu for the best papers written by Bradley students on social science subjects according to Ted Seamans, program chairman of the organization.

The contest is open to any Bradley undergraduate and the prize winning papers will be presented at the April meeting.

A faculty committee will be appointed by the president Ada Mae Albright to judge the papers. The prize money will be contributed by alumni members.

Dean Siepert New Faculty Adviser For Student Council

Dean Siepert was welcomed as new faculty adviser for Bradley student council Tuesday night at council meeting in the chapel. Mr. Siepert takes the post that was voluntarily vacated by Dr. Gorsline who had been council adviser for a number of years.

Campus traffic regulations were among the first council items of business the new adviser heard discussed. Dean Siepert agreed to oversee traffic law violations in Manual Arts court while council members "crack down" on students parked illegally in front of Bradley hall, that is—double parked, or parked on the circle.

Pre-Medic Students Take Aptitude Test

Five pre-medical students took the Medical Aptitude Test last Friday afternoon. The five students were: Robert Smith, Carl Nelson, Joe Morgan, Frances Wenzel and James White. Letters To The Editors

Dear Editor:

In answer to the clever and witty letter that was run in last week's TECH concerning a certain column named Algernon. I wish to say, Nuts to you, P. D. Q.

I think the column is wonderful. It is by far the most unique, unusual, exciting, exasperating—gosh, it's keen. I think it does more to give the paper class than any other column. I could just read it and read it. In fact, I save every issue that comes out. Last week I was disappointed because only half of it was printed. Please, dear, Editor, let us have more Algernon.

Thank you,
Algernon.

Quartet To Sing On Hilltop Hour

Cardon V. Burham's new male quartet, which has been enthusiastically received by the chapel audience, will make its radio debut Sunday November 17, on the Bradley "Hilltop Hour" over station WMBD. Another feature of the program will be a discussion of her recent novel, "Late Harvest," by Dr. Olive B. White.

The new half-hour program, sponsored by Bradley and presenting students and faculty members, will last through the school year, coming on at 8:30 p. m. every Sunday.

November 24 the broadcast will consist of a round table discussion led by Dr. Howard Perkins.

'Y' Members Attend Meeting At Normal

Nine "Y" members journeyed to Bloomington to attend the Southern Illinois Area Fall Conference which was held on Saturday and Sunday. Members attending the conference were Millie Arends, Julia Ann Ball, Ruth Foberg, Alice Gess, Ida Miller, Ruth Van Nuys, Jean Joos, Ruth Tyler and Elaine Urban.

"We went down on the traction—and what an attraction! Mainly because the regular coach was full and we were allowed to ride in the parlor car," said some of the girls when they were asked about the conference.

Jean Joos, an all-association member, said, "When each school had to put on an original stunt spontaneously, they were so much fun we just howled with laughter—until it was our turn to entertain the crowd. Then I guess we just howled."

Ruth Tyler, another all-association member, praised the enthusiasm of Miss Barr, the principal speaker, and of Ruth Foberg, who was the Area Chairman. Said Ruth, "The enthusiasm of all the schools there certainly impressed me, and I think we all caught some of that spirit."

Dorm Neophytes Sport Safety Pins For 'Hell Week'

Safety pins for pledge pins and enormous hair bows are to be seen on the campus this week worn by the humble neophytes of Constance hall. During this week it has been the duty of the freshman girls to care for the upper-classmen's rooms, wait on their superiors willingly, and do the irksome little duties that are required of them. All will be over Saturday, however, when red hair bows are discarded and the freshies are welcomed into the company of the upperclassmen.

Late Fall Picnics Still In Vogue As Pastime For Techsters

Picnics planned for late fall days are made with several possible locales in mind, and such was the case with three Bradley couples Monday evening. A weiner roast was planned for Detweiler Park, weather permitting, or indoors in case of unwelcome showers—Betty Barclay, Gene Smith, Dorothy Ann Smith, Marvin Hult, Myra Seitz, and Frank Hazzard, were the couples planning the Monday evening affair.

* * * * *

Another Monday evening affair was the picnic planned by Tech students in the form of a steak fry held at Detweiler Park. Following a luscious meal of steaks 'n all the trimmings the couples returned to Peoria for an early movie and dates were deposited at their respective homes in time for last minute touches on Tuesday's assignments. Elaine Ryan, Joe Coyte, Betty Mae Jacobs, Jack Schonkweiler, Pat Heeg and Jim Montgomery were the picnickers.

Picnics seem to be "the thing" these days, and three more couples chose Sunday night for their supper out of doors. Clark's pasture was the spot chosen by this group and it was there that steaks were cooked and enjoyed before the couples drove to Peoria for an evening of dancing at the Wigwam. Having fun together were Ann Dooley, Tom Cartwright, Marjorie Benoist, Harlan Berger, Maggie Irvine and Gene Smith.

Betty Henderson of Bloomington was the houseguest of Ina Jane Ulbrich this past weekend. and since she is a frequent visitor in Peoria, she was renewing old acquaintances during her three-day stay here. Following the Bradley-Wesleyan game on Saturday, several of her friends were together for a steak fry at the Grand View Drive home of Martha Herget. Dancing to the tunes of the latest recordings provided further entertainment for Bettie Henderson, Frank Hazzard, Media Stubblefield, Harvey Muncey, Ina Jane Ulbrich, Jim Kromphart, Phyllis Barrick, Max Custer, Martha Herget and John Heisel.

Emily Stacy was introducing two friends of hers last Saturday night when she invited several of her best chums to her home to meet Betty and Virginia McMillan. The party was a six o'clock buffet dinner and was given at the Stacy home on Douglas Court. Bridge games followed dinner for Betty Jane Seabury, Joan Gedge, Lois Trimble, Muriel Farrow, Helen Anderson, Shirley Smith, Frankie Watkins, and Jackie Swann.

* * * * *

Tuesday's election was the incentive for many parties and Pat Haskins took advantage of the opportunity to invite several of her best friends to her home to listen to election returns and cheer their favorite candidate on to victory. Cokes and cookies were the refreshments served late in the evening to Marian Volkens, Dorothy Ann Reed, Alice Ann McCord, Pauline Kellstedt, Libby Hack, Mary'nette Chamberlin, Marilyn Jacob, Phyllis Eaton, Nancy Harmon and Sally and Pat Haskins.

* * * *

Jessie Riegel was another party hostess of the past week and was entertaining at a waffle supper on Saturday evening. Ping pong games in the recreation room followed supper, and later the group drove to the Ing to spend the remainder of the evening dancing to the tunes of Jim Rindfuss and his band. Jessie was entertaining Vivian Kelley, Bob Leu, Gerry Seltzer, Roger Sutton, Lois Riegel, Paul D. Moon and Phil O'Connell.

Breezing around the campus last week were lots of breath-taking little whirlwinds.

One of the most breathtaking was Marion Stein in a pretty yellow sweater and pleated skirt to match.

Pretty and youthful was Marg Healey in her plaid jumper of yellow and brown with a full skirt and yellow shirt.

One strikingly handsome whirl was Hope Anderson in a light blue-green jerkin of suede worn over a gold gaberdine shirt with a green pleated skirt.

A pretty breeze was Marilyn Jacobs in a Kelly green jerkin.

Willy Weatherholt had a rust gabardine jerkin, the first of its kind that I saw on the campus.

Jean Graham had a gold jerkin and dink that really complimented her hair.

Pearl Neumann was cute last week in a brown wool jerkin and a short kid's skirt to match.

Convert cloth was made into a boyish suit with long torso jacket and a "hidden fulness" skirt. Its Mavis Remsburg's suit and she wears it with a red suede beret and a red shirt.

Kay Keyes was a striking beauty in a blue corduroy outfit—jacket, skirt, and dink; and needless to say her hair set it off.

Alpha Pis Plan Sunday Open House

Alpha Pi fraternity will hold open house Sunday from 3 to 5 p. m., November 17. Refreshments will be served by Lorraine Gustafson of Lambda Phi, Betty Morton of Delta Kappa, and Ruth Bohl of Sigma Chi Gamma. Co-chairmen of the affair are Jim Dillon and Bill Armstrong.

This will be the first opportunity for the public to view the interior of the fraternity house which was extensively redecorated this summer.

Alpha Pis, Lambda Phis To Have Dances

Members, alumni, and those who secure bids from the active members of the Alpha Pi will be found at the Wigwam, Friday, November 15, enjoying the fraternity's annual Thanksgiving hop.

The gay music will be furnished by Danny Burke and the Little Band. That new, novel orchestra featuring "your kind of music." A large crowd is expected by Dean Arnholt who is in charge of the merrymaking.

Dancing begins at 8:30 and the chaperones for the evening are two popular members of the Bradley faculty, Mr. Gault and his wife, and Dr. Westfall.

* * * * *

Don't forget to get a bid to the Lambda Phi Thanksgiving dance which is to be held this Saturday night, November 16, in the ballroom of the Pere Marquette hotel. Jim Rindfuss and his ten men and a girl will furnish gay tunes for the dancers from 8:30 'til 11:30, and bids may be secured from any member of Lambda Phi. Fran Mohr is general chairman of the affair.

Horology Fraternity To Have Smoker Tomorrow Evening

Psi Delta Omega, horology fraternity, will hold a smoker in social hall tomorrow evening at which time movies will be shown. At the regular meeting Monday night plans were made which would revive social activity to a great degree. Committees were formed which are to make plans for smokers, dances, steak fries, skating parties, and sleighing parties.

Dorm Girls Dance To Burke's Music

Girls of Constance hall and their invited escorts were dancing to the music of Danny Burke, Saturday evening. Fall flowers were used as decorations about the spacious rooms.

Dr. White, Dr. and Mrs. Shroyer, and Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Wilmarth were the chaperones for this annual fall dance.

It's a pity that no way has been found to harness the energy that is dissipated on golf courses.

Braves Oppose North Dakota In Last Home Game Of Season

In the final home game of the season, the Bradley Braves will oppose the powerful University of North Dakota Sioux eleven here at Bradley field Saturday afternoon. To the Sioux goes the honor of being the first state university football team to ever play in Peoria.

They have a team composed of veterans in almost every position and boast of very capable reserve material. The Sioux have been champions of their conference for seven of the past ten years.

Their record for the year is very impressive, due to wins over the University of South Dakota, South Dakota State and North Dakota State on succesive weekends, thus enabling them to claim the championship of the Dakotas. One of their outstanding victories this season was achieved over the widely publicized travelling team from St. Mary's of Texas. The Sioux triumphed over St. Mary's by a score of 24 to 0 only one week after St. Marys had crushed another southern opponent 100 to 0.

The Braves on the other hand will be on the rebound from a stinging defeat at the hands of Illinois Wesleyan. All of the boys came through the game without serious injury and after resting Monday, went back to work Tuesday, correcting the mistakes made in Saturday's game and perfecting offensive maneuvers to be used against North Dakota.

Wearing the Red and White for the last time on their home field will be Ken Olson, Harry Schindler, Marion Asa, Jack Digman, Chuck Pitcher, George Davis, Cliff Webster, Wendell Starrick, Don Schooley, Dean Richardson, and Elroy Littlewood.

Alphas Lead Bowlers In League Play

Alpha Pi's keglers led by Harlan Berger, took two games over Beta Phi Theta last Friday, and in so doing kept their position in the undefeated column of the league. Alpha Pi has also rolled over Lambda Chi Alpha during the season, but are anticipating tougher competition for the remainder of the season with a strong Independent team serving as competition tomorrow night.

Beta Mu's keglers proved too strong in the first game with the Sigmas Phis, but weakened in the finale to be subdued by an inspiring game lofted by a Sig Phi, Carmen Dixon.

A strong independent team annexed the first game with Lambda Chi Alpha, but their attack bogged down, and they lost the last by only a few pins. This was only the second defeat for the Independents with four wins to their credit.

In going over the Wesleyan game of last Saturday, it is safe to say that the Techsters didn't expect the attack they met on that day. While everyone knew that Wesleyan was powerful, nobody would have ventured to predict that the Titans would push across two touchdowns in the first quarter.

No team did that all year, in fact the feat hadn't been pulled on the Braves in the past four years. The Braves just didn't expect it and once it came, they were not only astonished but lacked the power to pull themselves together for a counter attack.

However, that game is over and now the Tech eleven is faced with an even greater potential power, the University of North Dakota. This team is perhaps the greatest ever to sign for a home game here at Bradley. The Sioux squad fairly bulges with all-state material, as is true with every university of its size.

So it is that the Braves will have to pick themselves up as a win Saturday and one Thanksgiving against Millikin would still lend a good season's record. It would leave the boys above the .500 mark with five wins against three loses and that's not bad considering that this is one of the toughest schedules in Tech history.

Wesleyan is one of the last schools in the conference that apparently has the material and the confidence to include Bradley on its schedules. Other schools in the league have declined games, especially in basketball, for the sole reason that they hate taking a continual drubbing.

Titans Trip Bradley On Parents' Day

Battling before a rained-soaked crowd of 3,500, a strong Illinois Wesleyan team trampled the Braves by a score of 27 to 7 here last Saturday afternoon.

The Titans, sparked by Bob Morrow and Chet Wetterlund, wasted little time in starting their conquest of their twenty-first win over the Tech. Early in the first quarter Wetterlund returned a punt nineteen yards to midfield and the Titans were under way. Wetterlund and Morrow shared the spotlight as the Illinois Wesleyan eleven smashed their way down the field for a touchdown. The point after touchdown was kicked by Morrow.

Fumble Costly

The Titans scored again in the first period when John Sheridan fumbled on his own 35 yard line and a Wesleyan man recovered. The Titans quickly capitalized on the break and scored. The extra point was again successful on a kick by Morrow.

Bradley's only score came in the second period of the game. The Braves led by Paul McCall took the ball on their own 11 yard line and marched 89 yards for their score. McCall started the drive when he got loose for 28 yards bringing the ball up to the Bradley 39 yard line. The Braves marched right through the Titan second team to the 19 yard line. There Coach Don Heap sent in his regulars to stop the Bradley drive but the Techmen were not to be stopped. When these new men entered the game the Titans were penalized 5 yards for too many time-outs which put the ball on the Ill. Wesleyan 14 yard line. Two line smashes by McCall and a lateral pass from Olson to Harold Klesath carried the ball to the 4 yard stripe. The Braves smashed into the Titans forward wall three times to place the ball on the 1 yard line.

Unable to smash their way over the Braves took to the air and Olson passed to Klesath in the end zone for the score. The extra point was made on a pass from Olson to Sovanski. The half ended with Wesleyan leading by a score of 14 to 7.

Morrow Scores Again

The Titans scored in both of the remaining periods. In the third quarter Wetterlund took a Bradley punt on the Bradley 46 and returned it to the 32 yard line. He then passed to Robinson for 21 yards and in two more plays Morrow went over. The kick for the extra point was wide.

In the final period of play the Titans scored their last touchdown on an intercepted pass. An attempted pass by Olson was taken by Lantz, Wesleyan tackle, who raced 56 yards for the final score.

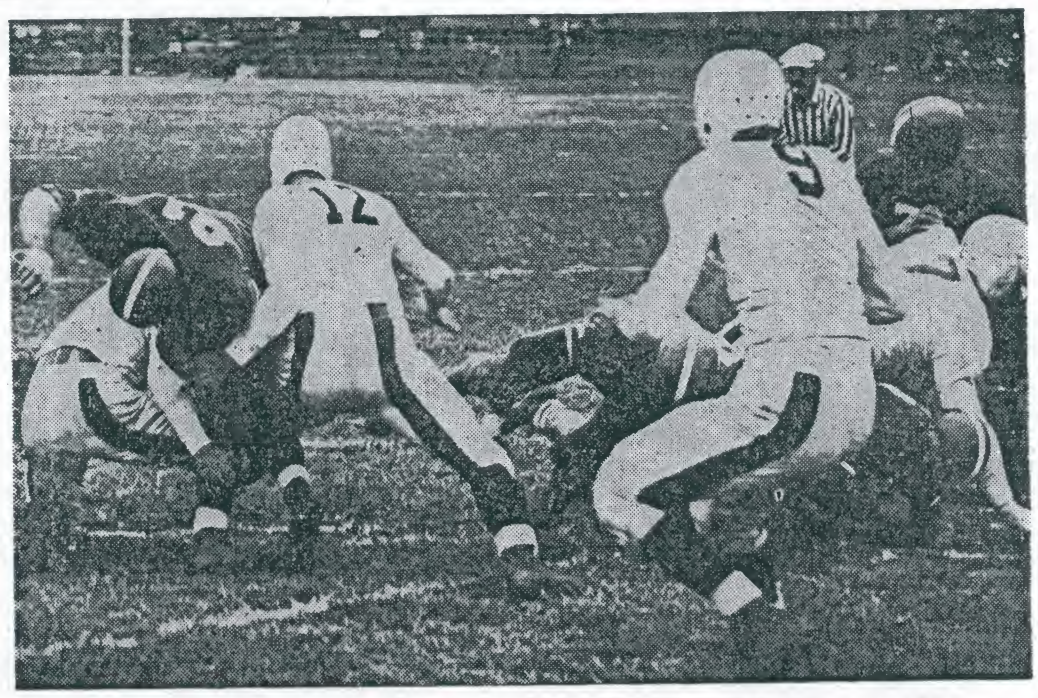
Morrow Battles Line For Touchdown Number Two



The above picture shows Illinois Wesleyan's great fullback, Bob Morrow, as he scored the second Titan touchdown in last Saturday's conference battle. Making a valiant effort to stop him in his mighty plunge are Harry Schindler and John Sheridan. Coming up to lend a hand is Bernie Markoski, but Morrow's effort was successful in spite of the spirited resistance offered by the Braves.

Peoria Star

Last week results of interfraternity touch football games show that the Beta Sigma Mu's and Beta Phi Theta's both claimed forfeits over the Alpha Pi aggregation. Alpha Pi failed to have enough men on the field at game time to compete. As a result, the victories were awarded to their opponents.

The schedule for this week pits Sigma Phi against Beta Sigma Mu on Thursday and Sigma Phi against Beta Phi Theta in a game tentatively scheduled for next Tuesday.

Foreign Correspondent To Speak Tonight At Woodruff High

Edmond Taylor, an American correspondent in Europe since 1928, will report his findings over there to an audience at the Woodruff High school auditorium tonight at 8 o'clock. His talk will be under the auspices of the Peoria Citizens Forum and is a free public lecture.

Dean L. G. Tillotson of Bradley, an executive committee member of the Forum, will introduce Mr. Taylor.

Edmond Taylor

Flee From Fallen France

With a wealth of experience and observation as a background, Mr. Taylor promises to be a worthwhile speaker. While Nazi bombers rained their death-dealing missiles on the freighter on which he and his wife were fleeing from fallen France, Edmond Taylor, veteran American newspaper reporter, decided to come home to warn the American people of the dangers of the fifth column. The term 'fifth column' is no meaningless phrase to Taylor. He had watched with horror as the fifth column brought about the moral disintegration of democratic France, paving the way for the complete collapse of military resistance.

With Reynaud Government

He was with the Reynaud Government at Bordeaux during those critical days when no Frenchman dared speak to his neighbor. He had seen loyal Frenchmen unwittingly duped by the traitorous advance guard of the Nazi war machine.

Taylor's experiences were not confined to France alone. His newspaper assignments took him to Spain, Italy, Austria, England and the Balkan countries, where his trained eyes saw the cancerous growth take root.

In his recent book, "Strategy of Terror," an analysis of the "Psychological Offensive," he described in detail Germany's fifth column technique and its accompanying demoralizing effects on civilian populations.

Chemical Society To Meet At YWCA

The Peoria section of the American Chemical society will meet tomorrow night at the Y. W. C. A. in a dinner meeting at 6:30 and a general meeting at 7:30.

Dr. James R. Withrow, head of the department of chemical engineering of Ohio university, will speak at the after-dinner meeting on "Some Production Problems of the New Chemical Fiber." A prolific contributor to scientific magazines and noted lecturer as well as instructor and experimenter, Dr. Withrow is well qualified in this field.

Dr. Ashman, former Bradley professor and chairman of the Peoria section, invites all interested students to attend either or both meetings. Reservations for the dinner may be secured from Miss Gertrude Harvey, treasurer of the association, for 75 cents; there is no admission to the 7:30 meeting.

'Y' To Sponsor Fashion Parade In Wigwam

A "Fashion Parade," sponsored by the Bradley Y.W.C.A., will be held in the Wigwam tonight at 8 o'clock. The Social Service and Dramatic Interest groups of the "Y" have combined to give the show. Anne Heideman and Jane McClugage, co-chairman, have secured the following girls as models: Marguerite Black, Barbara Blair, Jean Brennan, Jean Graham, Marjorie Holt, Geraldine Herrmann, Jean Jacob, Madge Penfold, Vicki Michel and Mary Stephenson.

Tickets for the show may be secured from Margaret Bauer, Martha Herget, Jean Hinds, Dorothy Janssen, Martha Pettegrew, Jean Reynolds, Ruth Van Nuys, and the co-chairmen. The tickets are fifteen cents, and all profit will be given to the Red Cross.

Members of the Social Service group are also knitting sweaters for the Red Cross.

The Wigwam will be closed tonight to all except those who attend the "Fashion Parade."

Plastics Discussed Before Science Fraternity

Epsilon Phi Alpha, honorary science fraternity, met last Wednesday evening at 7:30 in the physics lab.

Speaker for the evening was Dr. John C. Cowan, assistant chemist at the Northern Regional research laboratory, who discussed "Plastics in 1940."

This meeting is the first attended by alumni under the new policy of inviting all old members of the club. Final arrangements were made for ordering pins for the new members of Epsilon Phi Alpha.
